

"Kim" takes some well-dressed punters through the latest dance moves.

Colour captured at Cup day carnival

KATH and Kim - well, a reasonable impersonation of them - were on hand to bring a little class to Bankstown Sports' Melbourne Cup celebrations last week.

The foxy morons took part in the fashion parade and performed on stage.

But the real celebrities of the day were the hundreds of punters who turned up in their most fabulous frocks and top-of-the range suits.

And The Express was there to capture the day's best-dressed on camera.
